

Records Relating to the 1939 – 1945 War

This is a list of resources in the three branches of the Record Office which relate exclusively to the 1939-1945 War and which were created because of the War. However, virtually every type of organisation was affected in some way by the War so it could also be worthwhile looking at the minute books and correspondence files of local councils, churches, societies and organisations, and also school logbooks.

The list is in three sections:

Pages 1-10: references in all the archive collections except for the Suffolk Regiment archive. They are arranged by theme, moving broadly from the beginning of the War to its end.

Pages 10-12: printed books in the Local Studies collections.

Pages 12-21: references in the Suffolk Regiment archive (held in the Bury St Edmunds branch). These are mainly arranged by Battalion.

Printed books

This is a selection of books which relate specifically to the War, either as it affected the 'Home Front' in Suffolk or Suffolk peoples abroad on active service. Of course almost any history of a parish or town in the twentieth century will include material on the war and how it affected the community, as will many autobiographies and books of reminiscences. These are not listed here but should certainly be looked at. The same applies to local newspapers (despite the demands of the censors), parish and school magazines.
